Editors Corner...

As the summer draws to an end and the harvests are in, the crop circles will be laid to rest for yet another year. This year there has been a great deal of hoaxing, and with over 100 formations in the country (Well, most are in Wiltshire this year...What a surprise..ED). The crop circle scene appears to be getting more violent (Not Men In Black this time, but Men In Yellow), and we are still no nearer to finding out what causes the real circles.

The next few months will see an increase in television items concerning Unidentified Flying Objects, but why I ask myself. There will be around 3 or 4 programmes that are due to be screened, and one in the making, but why. The television has kept away from this subject somewhat in this country. Has an Alien from outer space been appointed head of television programming or is it a sudden opening in the subject that we should take advantage of and put pressure on such organisations to screen more programmes to get the public more interested in the subject.

The 1995 UFO CONFERENCE (See advertisement) draws ever closer and we will soon be taking bookings for this event. Tickets are £5 each for the day, from 10am - 4pm, and includes 4 excellent speakers on the subject of UFO's and Crop Circles. I hope that you can come along, and as there are only 100 seats available, it is advisable that you book early. So put the 22nd April 1995 in your diary and we will see you there.....ED.

Press/Tv/Radio matters over the past month 15.7.94 - 15.8.94 :

Press :

3.7.94 : INDEPENDENT ON SUNDAY : 'STRANGE THINGS' IN SKY

PUZZLE MINISTER.

The government remains open-minded on some of the 'strange things' which appear in the sky and defy explanation, the Defence Minister, Lord Cranbourne admitted in a letter made public yesterday, writes Chris Moncrieff of the Press Association.

22.7.94 : DAILY MAIL : IS THIS THE BEAST THAT'S TOO SHY TO HANG ABOUT ?

These are the pictures which have set a community talking, with some trepidation..

They are said to show a wild panther-type cat which is roaming moorland eight miles from Oxford city centre.

The 'Beast of Otmoor' has been sighted three times in the past month, twice in the village of Fencott.

Resident Malcolm Warner captured it on camera as it climbed down a tree in his garden. He says it was black with orange eyes.

His wife Pat, 50, said yesterday : 'It didn't jump down like a normal pet cat. It crept down the trunk, face first, and sloped away. It was the size of a large dog, but much closer to the ground. It seemed more frightened than we were'.

The second sighting was on Monday, when 15-year old Lewis Watson was cutting a neighbour's lawn. His mother Janet said : 'He turned round when he sensed his pet labrador Belle coming up behind him. But to his horror it was a huge black cat. It looked him in the eyes and then loped off. He ran inside and phoned me for help.'

Yesterday farm workers reported seeing a panther-type animal 12 miles away at Stonesfield. To get there it would have had to cross the A34 dual carriageway.

Cotswold Wildlife Park experts think it could be a panther, jaguar or leopard, released from a private collection. 'It appears to be quite tame', said one. 'It would have plenty of rabbits and birds to feed on. If it got really hungry it could attack a sheep'.

Inspector Jim McBeth of Bicester police said: 'There is no doubt that we have got a wild cat in the area'.

22.7.94 : DAILY MAIL : THE SCAR OF JUPITER.

A gigantic scar punched into its surface, this is how Jupiter looked after being hit by one of the biggest fragments from the comet Shoemaker-Levy 9.

The two-mile wide projectile careered into the planet at 134,000 mph, exploding with 400 million times the power of the nuclear bomb dropped on Hiroshima, and causing a fireball thousands of miles long.

This is the first colour photograph of the aftermath of the impact caused by Fragment G. It was taken by the Hubble space telescope on Monday and released last night.

The striking image delighted astronomers who have been kept busy monitoring the cosmic fireworks 478 million miles from Earth.

Shoemaker-Levy 9 began the finale of its fiery six-day self-destruction last night. The explosion triggered by the 16th fragment, dubbed S, was 'one of the brightest of them all', according to scientists watching from a mountain-top in South Africa.

BRADFORD TELEGRAPH & ARGUS : 30.4.94 :

In the Bradford Telegraph and Argus of the 30.4.94, According to Bufora, there have been a total of 167 sightings so far this year. The item did not state if this was the total nationally, or just reported to Bufora. If it was the total reported to Bufora, then it seems a very small total, and maybe, Bufora's problems reflect this total.

NORTHERN UFO NEWS : No 166 Summer 1994.

As ever Jenny has produced a very informative and well presented magazine. In the editorial, Jenny revealed how a vote of no confidence was brought against her !! (YOU MUST BE JOKING JENNY ... !!!!!), by a Bufora member, and then low and behold this member gets Jenny's position. Talk about a stab in the back and the old school tie syndrome... It appears to me that it was done with a purpose, and having achieved that purpose, the knife was later twisted once again in Jenny's back. Jenny also refs to the article that appeared in the News Of The World newspaper, and I feel you should read Jenny's magazine yourself and read Jenny's side.

All this said, Jenny's magazine looks at the new magazine 'The New Ufologist', a round up of news, a review of magazines (Jenny mentions my newsletter in this edition... Nice one Jenny... ED), a look at media matters, a review of the books of the moment and recent northern sightings. You cannot beat Jenny's magazine for value and I suggest that all you arm chair ufologists get hold of a cop. More details from : 37 HEATHBANK ROAD, CHEADLE HEATH, STOCKPORT, CHESHIRE, SK3 0UP.

July ALTON BARNES,WILTSHIRE. THE ALTON BARNES 'EYE' APPEARED.

(IS SOMEONE TRYING TO TELL US SOMETHING...LIKE WE ARE WATCHING YOU...).

Whilst talking to a friend who spent his summer holidays in Wiltshire this year,he told me that he had visited one or two of the formations and gave me video footage of 5 of them.It was interesting to note,that one of the formations that he filmed, was the Alton Barnes 'EYE' and the the 'KEY' formation that was in close proximity of each other.My friend had been talking to local villagers after the KEY formation had appeared,and he was told that someone had been seen leaving the formation in the early hours of the morning it was found,with what appeared to be a drum or a garden roller.The Hoaxer strikes again.

On his way home,he stopped at Cheesefoot Head,and filmed the new formation that had appeared in the Punch Bowl alongside the Pictogram.Whilst filming the formation,he noted two vehicles alongside the field down in the Punch Bowl.It appeared to be the field owner and a few heavies from the farm.They were watching some people in the formation.One of the vehicles went off across an adjoining field and swept around behind them out of sight.They appeared to be laying a trap for those in the formation.I have also heard that researchers encountered men in yellow uniforms,carrying pick axe handles near another formation in Wiltshire.It is getting rough out there folks,and my warning to anyone contemplating going into a formation, watch your backs,you never know who is going to stab you in the back...ED.

F.C. TAYLOR - universally known as Busty Taylor - is a Wiltshire man, born and bred, with one of those knacks for mechanical gear of all kinds which his father encouraged from an early age. In 1967, just turned twenty-four, he found that he had a talent for teaching people to drive, and he now runs a thriving school of motoring. His private passions are flying and photography - two skills which have put him in the forefront of crop circle photography and given him an international reputation in this area.

His talent for balancing an unwieldy camera at the top of a tall pole for ground photography of the circles is hardly less awe-inspiring than his ability to fly an aircraft with one hand and to take video pictures with the other.

He has appeared many times on national and foreign television programmes, and his still and moving pictures have enlivened many meetings and conferences. His presence is felt throughout.

Busty is a founder member of the Centre for Crop Circle Studies. A group dedicated to the study of the Crop Circle phenomena.

In 1988 Busty appeared on the first Crop Circle documentary, directed by the BBC, entitled 'Raising Rings around Andover'. Busty became renowned for his vast collection of Crop Circle photographs which began to be published world-wide, some of which were reproduced in Arthur C. Clarke's book 'Unsolvable Mysteries'.

In 1989 when the Crop Circle phenomena began to take off, a large selection of his photographs were used to illustrate the best-selling 'Circular Evidence'.

Turning his hand to the video format, Busty produced sequences and stills for an American network programme 'Unsolved Mysteries'.

Busty's film sequences and stills soon found themselves screened later that year on Rippon TV (Tokyo) 'Thursday Special'.

By 1990 Busty had become a major source of photographic and research material regarding the phenomena and became a regular lecturer on the subject, starting with the first Crop Circle conference at Oxford Polytechnic, with guest speakers from all over the world.

Busty became a founder member of the Centre for Crop Circle Studies, and again many of his celebrated 'Pole Star' and aerial photographs were used to illustrate 'The Crop Circle Enigma'. Busty also featured on an American documentary 20/20, produced by ABC TV.

In 1991 Busty's fame became world wide with T.V. documentaries produced for Australia, Germany, America and the BBC.

A further selection of his photographs were used to illustrate 'Circles - Harbingers of World Change' and Jürgen Krong's book 'Spirals in the Corn'.

Busty lectured at the highly successful Glasbury Crop Circle Conference in September.

After being featured on TV's 'Spiral' in October, Busty left for a whirlwind tour of America, lecturing in 12 major cities over 12 gruelling weeks, with many radio and T.V. appearances.

Busty has recently been involved in a series of 'away' lectures throughout the U.K. With a vast amount of energy, dedication and experience, Busty has become one of the leading authorities on the Crop Circle Phenomena.
